What if I do not have a permanent residence, or my permanent residence doesn't have an address associated with it?

You have the same right to vote as anyone else – you just might need a little extra advice.

- Your permanent address need not be a place you go to every day. It's just anywhere you stay at regularly and consider your home. That can be a family member's house, or a friend's place, or a shelter. It can even be a park bench or other spot where you frequently return, although it will be easier if you can provide an address where you regularly receive mail.
- If you have a permanent residence but it does not have a standard address, you may be able to use a rural route number or description of your residence.
- If you lack a standard address and are unable to meet Oregon's address or proof of residence requirements, please contact us at vote@narf.org. We are here to help, free of charge.

More on Casting a Ballot:

- If you are registered to vote by the deadline, a ballot will be mailed to your address two to three weeks before the election.
- Your voting materials have three components: a ballot, an "optional secrecy sleeve," and a signature return ID envelope

When you're ready to vote, you should carefully review all instructions provided with your ballot. Make sure you sign the outside of the ID envelope as indicated, or your vote won't be counted!

Contact Information for County Clerks: If you don't have reliable Internet access, or just can't find the answer to a voting-related question online, call your county clerk! Let them know you have a question about voting – they should be able to help, or connect you to the appropriate municipal clerk to better address your question.
